

Shift Coverage

honeybeeBase Shift Marketplace allows schedulers to notify team members of an available shift

Problem:

Finding shift coverage can be very time consuming for shift schedulers and require reaching out to multiple team members to check their availability

Solution:

The honeybeeBase Shift Marketplace allows schedules to choose to send shifts they need coverage for to the marketplace. Team members that qualify can then claim the shift. This saves time and ensures coverage for your business.

Key Features

- Send individual shifts to the marketplace
- Users that qualify can receive a notification that an open shift is available to claim and can do so from a computer, tablet or phone
- Settings can be configured to automatically assigned the claimed shift to the team member on the schedule or send a notification to the scheduler for approval
